Dear Principal,

Sub: Revised curricular Framework – Implementation- reg

As you are aware, the NCERT has brought out National Curriculum Framework-2005 during the last year. The new curricular framework envisages certain changes in the content and methods of curricular transaction in the classrooms. The syllabus for various disciplines of learning has also been prepared by NCERT based on the above framework. The Board has adopted/adapted the same for implementation in the affiliated schools after due consideration. The new curriculum will be introduced in the following phases.

Phase I (2006-2007)	Class I, III, VI, IX and XI
Phase II (2007-2008)	Class II, IV, VII, X and XII
Phase III (2008-2009)	Class V, Class VIII

In so far as the classes I to VIII is concerned, the Board prescribes the syllabi designed by NCERT. No separate syllabus is published by the Board. The schools can straight away download the same from the website of NCERT or acquire a copy of the same from the sales depots of their organization. In so far as the classes IX to XII is concerned the Board would be releasing the Secondary School Curriculum- 2008 and Senior School Curriculum-2008 shortly. The syllabi for various subjects would also be made available in the website of CBSE shortly.

Further NCERT has also informed that the textual materials for the above classes would also be available for use in schools before the commencement of the academic calendar of the schools. The textbooks are also being placed on the website of NCERT for reference and use. Schools affiliated to the Board are therefore advised to ensure that the revised curriculum is implemented in all the affiliated schools as per the above calendar.

Yours faithfully,

(G.Balasubramanian)
Director (Academics)
